

Special Issue

Sustainable Urban Open Space Governance and Management

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue addresses the need for governance approaches that include both a wide spectrum of users/citizens and internal cross- and transdisciplinary arrangements across organizational silos. Governance and management approaches can be a way to include sustainable, long-term, inclusive and collaborative thinking. Such approaches look beyond silos of professions like city planning, design, landscape architecture, gardening, management, maintenance or (urban) forestry, with sustainable development for urban open spaces through, e.g., strategic management, nature-based solutions/thinking, and new governance approaches.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international Open Access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. Sustainability publishes original research articles, review articles and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
