Special Issue

Waste Management for Sustainable Development

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue will cover progress in the areas of waste management design, operation, policy or practice with emphasis on sustainable development. The intention is to promote fundamental and applied research that could be beneficial to waste management researchers, practitioners, or policy makers, Issues that will be covered include waste generation and characterization, collection, cleaner production, waste utilization, life cycle assessment, planning, policy and regulations, innovative technologies, education and training, and system/process optimization. We are soliciting high-quality work in the form of original research articles, best practices, and critical reviews. Case studies will be considered but should extend the discussion beyond the locality of the study. All articles should address waste management problems and solutions that are of general interest to readers with emphasis on sustainability.
