Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

We are pleased to invite you to submit the research that aims to respond to the following questions: (1) Statistical assessments can realistically meet ecological risk analyses for different environmental systems, including sources and receptors from drinking water, wastewater, or contaminated soil? (2) To what extent different levels of environmental systems screening could be quantified and correlated with the risks generated in-situ by pollutants/contaminants, including metallic species, biocides, pesticides, and plastics, and whether bioassays can support projected risk-taking.

In this Special Issue, original research articles, short communications, and reviews are welcome. We look forward to receiving your contributions.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Toxics (ISSN 2305-6304) is an international, peer-reviewed, open access journal which provides an advanced forum for studies related to all aspects of toxic chemicals and materials. We aim to publish high quality work that furthers our understanding of the exposure, effects, and risks of chemicals and materials in humans and the natural environment as well as approaches to assess and/or manage the toxicological and ecotoxicological risks of chemicals and materials. Please consider publishing in Toxics when preparing your next paper.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges \(APC\) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE \(Web of Science\), PubMed, PMC, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, AGRIS, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Toxicology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Chemical Health and Safety)
