Occupational Exposure to Heavy Metals in Environmentally Vulnerable Areas

Message from the Guest Editors

With the increasing use of various metals in industries, the health risks of occupational exposure to toxic metals have attracted the attention of researchers. In the Special Issue "Occupational Exposure to Heavy Metals in Environmentally Vulnerable Areas", we aim to present a collection of original articles or reviews on the following topics:

- (1) levels of occupational exposure and health risk assessment;
- (2) exposure routes and biological monitoring;
- (3) source identification and control;
- (4) identification of toxic mechanisms.
