Rare Earth Elements (REEs) and Related Pollutants: Ecotoxicological Effects, Risk Assessment and Machine Learning Prediction

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue will provide a comprehensive platform for the latest advances in this field, including, but not limited to, the following: - Environmental fate and transport of REEs in soil and aquatic systems; - Bioaccumulation, biomagnification, and trophic transfer of REEs; - Mechanisms of toxicity (molecular, cellular, and organismal levels) of REEs to flora and fauna; - Mixture toxicity of REEs with other co-occurring contaminants; - Risk assessment and remediation strategies for REE-contaminated sites; - Advances in analytical methods for speciation and bioavailability of REEs; - Machine learning methods for water quality benchmarks. We invite you to submit original research articles, reviews, and short communications.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Toxics (ISSN 2305-6304) is an international, peer-reviewed, open access journal which provides an advanced forum for studies related to all aspects of toxic chemicals and materials. We aim to publish high quality work that furthers our understanding of the exposure, effects, and risks of chemicals and materials in humans and the natural environment as well as approaches to assess and/or manage the toxicological and ecotoxicological risks of chemicals and materials. Please consider publishing in Toxics when preparing your next paper.
