

Special Issue

The Influence of Urban Air Pollution on Neurobehavioral Disorders

Message from the Guest Editor

There is growing evidence that urban air pollution may affect human behaviour. The purpose of this Special Issue of Toxics, therefore, is to broaden the knowledge of the influence air pollutants have on mental health in urban areas via environmental exposure. We are pleased to invite you to submit original papers, reviews, and short communications that focus on single or complex psychoactive compounds and their impacts on the neurological system. The articles may include elements of the main theme spanning from epidemiological to molecular aspects and may propose threshold limits of exposure for health surveillance purposes.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Toxics (ISSN 2305-6304) is an international, peer-reviewed, open access journal which provides an advanced forum for studies related to all aspects of toxic chemicals and materials. We aim to publish high quality work that furthers our understanding of the exposure, effects, and risks of chemicals and materials in humans and the natural environment as well as approaches to assess and/or manage the toxicological and ecotoxicological risks of chemicals and materials. Please consider publishing in Toxics when preparing your next paper.
