

Special Issue

Vaccine and Vaccination in Veterinary Medicine

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue is a platform for disseminating cutting-edge research that bridges fundamental science and practical applications. We invite contributions in novel vaccine platforms (e.g., mRNA, viral vectors), mucosal immunization strategies, or cross-species immunity studies. We welcome original research articles, short communications, and reviews. Research areas include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Vaccine safety and efficacy;
- Establishment of infectious disease models in animals;
- Development and design of novel or improved vaccines;
- Differential diagnostics between vaccine administration and pathogen infection;
- Therapeutic vaccines and vaccines for economic animals (e.g., foxes, deer, etc.);
- Determining the relationship between veterinary vaccines and human health;
- Vaccines and diagnostics for aquatic animals.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Vaccines (ISSN 2076-393X) has had a 6-year history of publishing peer-reviewed state of the art research that advances the knowledge of immunology in human disease protection. Immunotherapeutics, prophylactic vaccines, immunomodulators, adjuvants and the global differences in regulatory affairs are some of the highlights of the research published that have shaped global health. Our open access policy allows all researchers and interested parties to immediately scrutinize the rigorous evidence our publications have to offer. We are proud to present the work and perspectives of many to contribute to future decisions concerning human health.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, Embase, CAPIus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Medicine, Research and Experimental) / CiteScore - Q1 (Pharmacology (medical))

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 19.6 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.8 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
