Spotlight on Allergic Dermatitis in Small Animals

Message from the Guest Editor

The Veterinary Sciences journal intends to prepare a Special Issue dedicated to allergology in veterinary dermatology. This Special Issue will mainly focus on allergic skin diseases in dogs and cats. The state of the art of atopic dermatitis and allergic food reactions in dogs will be reviewed by experts in this field. Furthermore, special attention will be given to feline allergic skin diseases and the complexity of their control. The pharmacological treatment of allergic skin diseases will also be covered and new frontiers will be explored. The submission of new research projects within this field is encouraged in order to increase the value of this Veterinary Science Special Issue.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Veterinary Sciences (ISSN 2306-7381) is an international and interdisciplinary scholarly open access journal that aims at publishing research in all fields of veterinary medicine in a democratic way. We encourage scientists to publish their original research articles, reviews, communications, and short notes in as much detail as possible. Articles submitted that involve subjecting animals to unnecessary pain or suffering will not be accepted, and all articles must be submitted with the necessary ethical approval (please refer to the Ethical Guidelines for more information).
