Viral Neuro-Immunology

Message from the Guest Editor

It is widely recognized that immunological responses to nervous system viral infection, while critical for clinical recovery, can be important drivers of primary disease progression and for the development of secondary complications. This Special Issue of Viruses will focus on recent advances in the development of models of previously understudied mechanisms of the neuropathogenesis of immune-mediated disease and disorders that result from retroviral, coronavirus, arboviral, and enteroviral infections. Submissions should focus on both in vivo and in vitro models, highlighting those that can be genetically engineered to allow for flexibility in design and application.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are invited to contribute a research article or a comprehensive review for consideration and publication in Viruses (ISSN 1999-4915). Viruses is published in open access format—research articles, reviews and other content are released on the internet immediately after acceptance. The scientific community and the general public have unlimited free access to the content as soon as it is published. As an open access journal, Viruses is supported by the authors or their institutes by payment of article processing charges (APC) for accepted papers. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, Embase, PubAg, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Virology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Infectious Diseases)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 17.2 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.7 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the second half of 2025).
