

Special Issue

Advances in Bacteriophage Biology

Message from the Guest Editor

Viruses is pleased to announce the creation of a collection of feature papers “Advances in Bacteriophage Biology.” This Issue aims to assemble a collection of articles that showcase emerging new approaches and developments that advance the current frontiers of fundamental and applied bacteriophage biology. We welcome the submission of manuscripts from Editorial Board Members and from scholars invited by the Editorial Board and the Editorial Office. Short proposals for the submission of Feature Papers are also welcomed. Please send proposals to the Viruses Editorial Office for evaluation (viruses@mdpi.com).

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Viruses (ISSN 1999-4915) is an open access journal which provides an advanced forum for studies of viruses. It publishes reviews, regular research papers, communications, conference reports and short notes. Our aim is to encourage scientists to publish their experimental and theoretical results in as much detail as possible. There is no restriction on the length of the papers. The full experimental details must be provided so that the results can be reproduced. We also encourage the publication of timely reviews and commentaries on topics of interest to the virology community and feature highlights from the virology literature in the 'News and Views' section.

Electronic files or software regarding the full details of the calculation and experimental procedure, if unable to be published in a normal way, can be deposited as supplementary material.
