

Special Issue

Studies on Soil and Water Contamination

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to gather high-quality papers emphasizing different aspects and findings of soil and water contamination, monitoring, remediation and risk assessment. We are pleased to invite you to submit research contributions that will go through a peer review process performed by independent reviewers. Original case studies and review papers are invited for publication in this Special Issue. Keywords

- soil and water quality
- soil mineralogy
- geochemistry
- pollutants behavior, pollution control
- remediation

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

In the context of global changes, the sustainable management of water cycles, going from global and regional water cycles to urban, industrial and agricultural water cycles, plays a very important role on the water resources and on their relationships with food, energy, biodiversity, ecosystem functioning and human health. Water invites authors to provide innovative original full articles, critical reviews and timely short communications and to propose special issues devoted to new technological and scientific domains and to interdisciplinary approaches of the water cycles. We ensure a critical review process and a quick turnaround between submission and final decision.
